

DAILY ECHO

Take your seats for night of outrageous comedy

11:51am Friday 15th February 2013 in What's On

OUTRAGEOUS Aussie comedienne Caroline Reid brings her cruelly-funny air hostess alter-ego Pam Ann to Bournemouth Pavilion tomorrow for a night of camp mayhem.

Queen of the Skies Pam comes direct from sell-out tours of her home country, the US and Europe. Her Around The World show is a sharp dissection of the high-flying life and the foibles of airlines and air crew alike and has been widely-acclaimed.

And it is not just the critics who have been impressed.

Reid accompanied Cher on her farewell tour in 2005, and her creation has won praise from Madonna and Elton John, and been compared with comedy greats Mae West and Dame Edna.

Expect a night of bitchy laughs, but be aware that Pam doesn't pull her punches – no-one is safe.

Take your seats for night of outrageous comedy